

POINTS OF INTEREST ON SES SÍNIES ROUTE

Ses Cases

Font de sa
Cometa

Na Llaneres lime kilns

Ses Sínies
well

Ses Sínies flora

Ses Sínies
archaeological site

Comellar de sa Cova
Rotja lime kilns

Ranxo

SES SÍNIES ROUTE

Galatzó Public Estate

C/ Es Capdellà a Galilea Km 2.2
Tel: 971 130577

medioambiente@calvia.com
www.pluscalvia.com

Admission times to the Estate

07:00-19:00 from 1 April to 30 September

08:00-17:00 from 1 October to 31 March

Admission times to the Houses

09:30-14:30 working days

10:00-17:00 holidays

Medi Natural i Urbà
calvia.com

SES SÍNIES ROUTE

This route begins in the carpark of the Galatzó Public Estate, passing the houses that make up the old farmstead and heading north in parallel with the Galatzó Torrent. The route ends at the Bronze Age archaeological site of Ses Sínies.

The route takes a total of 2.20 hours and a little more than 9 km in length. It takes walkers through traditional croplands, Mediterranean woodland, and mountainous areas, passing by ethnographic landmarks of various kinds. These include lime kilns (one of which has been restored), qanats, wells, charcoal production sites, and so on. The route also takes in the archaeological site of the Ses Sínies settlement. The end of the route connects up with a more difficult one leading to Mola de s'Esclop and the GR-221 footpath.

The landscape on this route traces a path through a cultivated area around the houses on the estate, followed by olive terraces on the sides of the nearby mountains, and the source of a torrent at the meeting point between the two peaks Puig de Galatzó and Mola de s'Esclop.

In botanical terms, the route offers examples of various native Balearic plant species, including Majorca St John's wort (Hypericum balearicum), dwarf Spanish foxglove (Digitalis minor) and crag hawk's-beard (Crepis triasii), along with typically Mediterranean vegetation including the fan palms, reeds, Montpellier rock rose, mastic tree, pine and wild olive.

GR-221

P

